You hear the cry: THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF LABOR. Yet the streets are overrun with idle men brought here at the expense of the Government.

Go along River street in the neighborhood of King, Hotel and Beretania streets any evening and you will see hundreds of Filipinos, Porto Ricans, Koreans and others of the same ilk making a living no one knows how.

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars are spent annually to bring plantation labor here that will not work on Plantations.

They leave the plantations as soon as they arrive there and find out that the law does not compel them to stay there.

They drift to the City and become parasites upon the community, filling our jails and hospitals at the PUBLIC EXPENSE.

If the money wasted in Steamship Charters and junketing trips was added to the price paid plantation labor, an ideal labor condition could be created. Labor would then seek the plantation instead of being sought after. The idle men would then disappear from our streets.

Citizen Labor would not be compelled to compete with pauper labor and wages of Citizen Labor would advance to a just rate in conformity to the high cost of living.

IMPRESSIVE MILITARY HONORS SHOWN AT MAJ. WHOLLEYS FUNERAL

With all the dignified solemnity and impressiveness of military mourning, the funeral of the late Major J. H. Wholley, late commandant of Fort Shafter, took place yesterday afternoon from the commandant's home at the fort. Military honors were given the body as it was borne to its temporary resting place at Williams undertaking establishment and the deep regret and sympathy of his many friends both in military and civil life were expressed in the floral tributes as well as in the messages of condolence that the bereaved family received from local friends and those on the mainland.

The funeral services were held at three o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Wholley home. The casket stood in the large hall and in the hall and the parlors on each side gathered the honorary pall-bearers and the intimate friends of the family. The hall was literally filled with the beautiful floral pieces, wreaths and cut flowers sent by military organizations and friends. The companies of the Second Infantry sent magnificent pieces, and the United Spanish War Veterans of Theodore Roosevelt and Mansfield posts expressed their sorrow in a handsome wreath of chrysanthemums and carnations. Company K marched to the house carrying its floral piece and delivered it in person.

From one to two o'clock yesterday afternoon the enlisted men visited the house and gazed upon the remains of their late commander. At three o'clock the honorary pall-bearers arrived. The pall-bearers were Brigadier General Macomb, Colonel French, Lieut.-Col. A. Campbell, Major Timberlake, C. A. C. Major Cheatham, Q. M. Corps; Major Kennedy, Medical Corps; Major McClure, Fifth Cavalry; and Captain Harris, Second Infantry.

The funeral rites of the Catholic church were observed. Father Ulrich of the Catholic Mission officiating, assisted by Chaplain Houlihan of Schofield barracks. Father Ulrich was with Major Wholley when the officer breathed his last.

With the funeral cortege drawn up before the commandant's quarters, amid the solemn pomp of soldiery, the services were held. Then the casket was carried to the waiting artillery carriage by six enlisted men of the regiment and the long cortege began winding its way through the grounds of the beautiful post. Maj. Wholley's horse, draped in black, was led in the procession, which was preceded by the regimental band from Schofield. Six enlisted men carried the casket to where the six mules drew the caisson, while the regulation three mounted men were in charge, the detail being under the command of a sergeant.

Then Capt. Jamieson, acting commandant of Fort Shafter, rode in the major's carriage and an escort wagon following carried the honorary pall-bearers.

beaters. The cortege escorted the caisson to the end of the Fort Shafter car-line, the band and honorary pall-bearers coming into the city.

The body will lie at the undertaking parlors until the November transport arrives, when it will be sent to Arlington cemetery. Wireless news received here from Seattle, Wash., brings the information that the state of Washington is making plans to send an official escort to San Francisco to meet the body and convey it to Arlington. The governor of the state and the Spanish War Veterans are planning to send a joint escort. In remembrance of Major Wholley's distinguished services to his state, when as a colonel of volunteers he commanded the First Washington regiment in the Philippines and made a splendid record for himself and his command.

W. C. T. U. HOLDS ITS ANNUAL MEETING; MUCH WORK SHOWN

George W. Paty Speaks on Local Politics and Saloon Influence

The annual meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Whitney, on Punahou street.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was organized in 1884 by Mrs. Mary Clement Leavitt, who was then making a tour of the world. Mrs. J. M. Whitney was made president then and has held the chair since that time.

Yesterday's meeting was opened by Mrs. Whitney, who read from the fourteenth chapter of John, including the first twenty-seven verses. Her subject was "The Peace of God."

The regular meetings of the W. C. T. U. are held once every year. Other meetings may be called when sanctioned by the president and the three other high officials.

As the correct report of the past meeting had been lost, little or no mention was made of it. Miss Florence Yarrow, secretary of the organization, being on the mainland, Miss Martha Hitchcock substituted in her place yesterday.

Mrs. L. B. Coan read the treasurer's report. At the conclusion of the reading the membership fees and annual donations were collected.

Miss Pindar, superintendent of the Flower Mission, then read her report. Flowers are taken to the Children's Hospital, the hospital at Fort Shafter, the Leahi Home and to the Maternity Home. Unless otherwise requested, the flowers are made into little bouquets and are given to each patient.

No report was read from the Loyal Temperance League as the superintendent, Mrs. Rider, was not present at the meeting.

Miss Gertrude Whiteman, who gives temperance instruction in the public schools, was present and gave a short talk. Another interesting feature of the afternoon was the talk by Ensign Manheart of the Salvation Army. She told of the progress the Army is making in Honolulu.

Mrs. E. B. Waterhouse was appointed the representative of the W. C. T. U. to the Associated Charities.

It was voted during the afternoon that the four highest officers of the W. C. T. U. be allowed to make any large appropriations without calling a meeting of the association.

Officers Elected.

Mrs. Gulick, who had been appointed nominating committee, nominated the following officers, who were duly elected: President, Mrs. J. M. Whitney; vice-presidents: Mrs. Doremus Scudder, Mrs. J. W. Wadman, and Mrs. W. C. Weedon; corresponding secretary, Miss Florence B. Yarrow; treasurer, Mrs. L. B. Coan; superintendents: Loyal Temperance Legion Mrs. P. W. Rider, Temperance instruction Miss Gertrude Whiteman, Flower mission Miss S. Pindar and Mrs. Charles H. Atherton.

The address of the afternoon was made by Mr. George Paty, secretary of the Anti-Saloon League.

JAPANESE VESSELS SEEN HOVERING OFF BIRD ISLAND, AND THETIS COALS

The presence of several small sailing craft or fishing vessels laying off Bird Island has caused local Federal officials to incline to the belief that one or more bird poaching parties are at work on the United States reservation, set aside some time ago by special enactment at Washington.

The Pacific Mail liner China, from Hongkong by the way of Japan ports passed within rather close range of Bird Island, the naked rock that lies in the Pacific. On arrival here, officers in the China reported to the local authorities that several vessels apparently fishing or sailing craft were plainly discernable with the aid of a glass.

The United States Revenue Cutter Thetis, which has just recently returned from an extended cruise in Alaskan waters, conveying the floating court to points in the far north, is being made ready for sea, judging from the preparation being made on board, and the activity displayed this morning with the loading of two large barges filled with coal.

It has been some months since the Thetis last visited the several islands to the westward of the Hawaiian groups. At that time a party of mainland scientists were landed at Laysan Island, where they carried on an extended research, and made a careful study of bird life as found there.

The party returned to Honolulu during the summer of 1911 and the Thetis then prepared to proceed to Alaska for a summer cruise.

The statement coming from the China to the effect that vessels are now in the vicinity of Bird Island has been interpreted to mean that Japanese fishermen and mayhap bird poachers are making the lonely spot a visit.

Two years ago the Thetis called at Laysan and Lisiansky Islands, where a landing party of officers came upon a score or more Japanese who had been at work for several months in gathering bird plumage and skins to be shipped to Japan at the instance of a large Tokyo feather firm. The Japanese claimed that they were to be picked up by a Japanese schooner and with their plunder, returned to their native land.

Bales of feathers and skins were confiscated, and while a vast quantity of the material was brought to Honolulu much of the accumulation was destroyed, while the twenty Japanese were taken aboard and landed at Honolulu, later to be sent to Japan.

Officers in the Thetis today are inclined to be non-committal regarding the future movements of the revenue cutter. The vessel has been undergoing a general overhauling while laying at her appointed anchorage. It is claimed that the Thetis can be made ready for sea in a matter of a few hours. Her officers and crew are standing by and prepared to join the vessel at a moment's notice.

In addition to the quantity of coal that has been going into the revenue cutter today, other lines of supplies have been sent to the ship, which would indicate that the vessel is being prepared for an extended cruise.

7982 REGISTER, MAKING NEW RECORD

The Great Register was closed last night at midnight with the total registration of 7982, the largest number ever tallied in Honolulu. As yet the City Clerk and his assistants have not had time to figure out the total registration from the various districts, but this will be completed within two days. At midnight all of the candidates for county offices had filed their nomination papers, including those of the candidates for the Republican and Democratic parties and those running independently.

In 1910 the registration was 7481, making the increase this year about 500 and it was expected that the registration this year would easily go to 8000.

USE AND ABUSE OF ILLUSTRATIONS IN ADS

Mr. Tom Sharp will give the Honolulu Ad Club a talk tomorrow noon on the "Use and Abuse of Illustrations in Advertising." Mr. Sharp besides being an expert sign artist had much experience in advertising previous to coming to the islands. The lunch will be held in the upper restaurant of the Palm Cafe.

The Democratic leaders have passed the matter of contesting the Maui Republican candidates' presence on the official ballot up to their legal adviser, J. L. Coke, following the attorney general's opinion yesterday that the names can go upon the ballot.
